Academic Information

Academic Appeals, Undergraduate Student
westerncalendar.uwo.ca
The University Senate has delegated to each Dean the right to waive any academic regulation. The Deans’ rulings in academic matters are final unless overturned or modified on appeal to the Senate Review Board Academic (SRBA). SRBA is the final body to which students may appeal certain rulings of Deans in academic matters, and its decisions are final. Contact your faculty for further details.

Academic Calendar
westerncalendar.uwo.ca | 519-661-2100
The Academic Calendar is the official record of academic programs and university-wide academic policies as reviewed and approved by Senate and its relevant committees, necessary for the University to fulfill its academic role and mission. The 2018-19 Academic Calendar will be available online in February 2018.

Academic Counselling
See 'Program & Academic Counselling’ chart on previous page.

Breadth Requirements for Bachelor Degrees
westerncalendar.uwo.ca
At least 1.0 course must be chosen from each of the three Categories A, B, and C. Two of Categories A, B, and C are required in first year. Any outstanding breadth requirement not completed in first year must be completed prior to graduation. For the courses offered in each category, please visit the website above.

Breadth Requirements for First Year
westerncalendar.uwo.ca
First-Year Program
Students registering in general first-year programs must choose courses that fulfill the basic requirement of 5.0 courses numbered 1000-1999. The 5.0 courses must include at least four different subjects with no more than 2.0 courses in one subject. Students are encouraged to take an essay course in first year. Additionally, students are subject to the Essay Course Requirements.

Essay Course Requirements
Satisfactory completion of at least 2.0 designated essay courses, at least 1.0 of which must be senior (numbered 2000 - 4999). The 2.0 essay courses must be completed through Western or through one of its Affiliated University Colleges.

Exception: Students who are admitted with 10.0 advanced stranding credits are required to complete 1.0 designated senior essay course (numbered 2000 - 4999) through Western or one of the Affiliated University Colleges.

Community Engaged Learning (CEL) Courses
519-661-3559 | cel.uwo.ca
CEL courses blend community-based projects with academic learning, and are offered in many disciplines at Western. Projects are based on community-defined needs and are intended to be beneficial to both the community and the student(s). Students gain exposure to community leaders, real-world issues, and the opportunity for professional skill-building through CEL courses. Visit cel.uwo.ca to see the CEL courses in your program/faculty.

Distance Studies
519-661-2100
registrar.uwo.ca/applying/distance_studies
Western’s Distance Studies will let you pursue University studies if you cannot attend regular classes. Today’s distance courses may include multimedia materials and take advantage of web-based communication technologies. Check out the Part-Time Calendar or the online timetable to see which courses offer distance options. The website also gives a more detailed description of Distance Studies programs, as well as information on how to apply.

Draft My Schedule
An interactive timetabling tool to aid students in the building of a conflict-free timetable. Through the Draft My Schedule tool, you will be able to: save versions of your draft schedule for future use; block off times and days to see if you can create a schedule around work, athletics, or other commitments; print a PDF copy of your schedule; view your full schedule once you have registered in courses; and view your enrollment appointment (once generated).
To access this tool, visit student.uwo.ca and click on the ‘Draft my Schedule!’ link under ‘Western Links’. Once you have created your class schedule, you MUST log into your Student Center to formally register in your classes.

Grades
See ‘Student Central’ section on page 63.

Grade Appeals and Other Requests for Relief
A student may request that a grade on a particular piece of work, or a final standing in a course or program, be changed; OR a student may request an exemption from a Senate academic regulation. The subject of a request for relief can range from waiver of progression requirements, to accuracy of grades on examinations or assignments, to appropriateness of sanctions imposed for scholastic offences. Such a request can include questions of fairness or appropriateness of general grading practices, and can be launched regardless of whether a record of the student’s work exists.
If you are considering an appeal of any kind, you should read “Academic Rights and Responsibilities” and other relevant policies and procedures in the Calendar, westerncalendar.uwo.ca. The Handbook of Academic and Scholarship Policy westernu.ca/univsec is also useful. Graduate students should visit grad.uwo.ca/current_students/regulations/11.
For more information contact the Office of the Ombudsperson or visit westernu.ca/ombuds.

O-Week
oweek.ca
Orientation Week is one of the most important programs the University and the USC provide for new students attending Western. O-Week offers an incredible opportunity to build memories, learn about campus resources and create connections with faculty, staff and fellow students. Not only does the program help welcome the incoming class of undergraduate students, it also provides 800 volunteer positions for upper-year students. Each Orientation Leader (Soph) is chosen through a selection process from a pool of 3,000 applicants. There are four different types of leadership positions available: Residence & Off Campus Sophs, Faculty Sophs, Affiliated University College Sophs, and Charity Orientation Leaders.

DID YOU KNOW?
Western is piloting a Fall Reading Week throughout the next two years, which will coincide with the Thanksgiving holiday.
A number of senior leadership positions are also available, including: Head Soph, Programming Assistant, or a member of Orientation Staff, which are groups of students who work directly with the Orientation Planning Committee to organize constituency-based events during O-Week.

An Orientation Pass (better known as an O-Pass) is your ticket to all of the O-Week excitement. The O-Pass Fee is automatically included in Ancillary Fees for first-time, full-time, first-year undergraduate students, both domestic and international. This means these students do not have to purchase the O-Pass (i.e. opt in). Students that do not have the O-Pass Fee covered as an Ancillary fee are: visiting/exchange students (who are not coded as year 1), students who are given advanced standing and entering their programs in upper years, or who have previously attended Western (such as those repeating their year 1 or returning into year 1 of a new program), transfer students, and Fanshawe/ Western collaborative nursing students (Fanshawe site). Students who will not be charged the O-Pass Fee through Ancillary fees may still opt in. The O-Pass will be $90. Students will be able to opt out of the O-Pass fee from July–August 15. The opt-out process will be done online, with more information on the O Week website.

Your Feedback
Your feedback is important to us! Your comments are used in the planning of courses and instruction at Western. The results help the Western community acknowledge outstanding teaching and courses while also indicating where we could improve. It is also used in Western’s regular faculty review procedures, including promotion and tenure decisions, and it can help students select future courses. Western has moved the questionnaire process online using the YourFeedback online administration system. The move online reflects Western’s commitment to sustainability by eliminating approximately 225,000 sheets of paper per year. YourFeedback also allows students to conveniently fill out questionnaires on their own devices. Students are notified through email when their course questionnaires are available. Remember: When you see the link, tell us what you think!

Avoiding Additional Penalties
Payment must be received in our office by the tuition deadline on your statement of account. Payments received after the tuition deadline will be assessed a late payment penalty. Contact Student Central if you have any inquiries regarding fee payment.

Wire transfers for students out of country can be made. Please visit our Fees area for more information: registrar.uwo.ca/student_finances/fees_refunds.html.

Residences at Western are some of the best in the country. Student satisfaction surveys have placed Western's residences number one for 11 consecutive years.

At Western, residence offers more than just a place to eat and sleep. It also engages and connects you to the campus and fosters your growth as a leader. The Residence Life program is geared toward helping you achieve your academic goals while creating an atmosphere of community and personal growth. We strive to assist you in attaining valuable leadership and employability skills by providing countless professional development opportunities.

We are very proud of the residence facilities at Western. Currently, there are nine on-campus residence buildings with over 5,000 spaces available in three different residence building types. The traditional-style building features single and double rooms with shared floor washrooms. It offers an easy way to meet new people, make friends, and get involved. Suite-style features single bedrooms with a shared kitchen, washroom(s) and living space among four people. The recently built hybrid-style residences are equipped with both single and double rooms, and semi-private washrooms. They offer the best of both worlds—the privacy of suite-style with the social connections of traditional.

Among the nine residence halls, Alumni House and London Hall are designed for upper-year students and a meal plan is optional. Layouts feature single bedrooms with double-size beds, a shared kitchen, washroom(s), and living space. Enjoy the interaction with your peers in these upper-year buildings along with increased independence. In all residences, upper-year students are always guaranteed a single room for their preference of privacy. In November, students will have access to the upper-year residence application on our website (myhousing.uwo.ca), which will allow them to choose their residence as well as their room.

The in-residence dining halls, with a six-week menu cycle, offer a variety of food options to best suit the dietary preferences of students from all over the world. Safety and security are important to us: day or night, there is always someone just a phone call away at our residence Front Desks. The support of residence staff complements the numerous safety benefits of on-campus living, and contributes to your best possible residence experience.

Privacy Policy

westernu.ca/privacy

With the extension of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) to Ontario universities in June 2006, records under Western’s custody or control are subject to this provincial legislation. The two key principles that underlie the Act — public access to information and protection of personal privacy — are principles that Western had taken seriously for many years prior to the application of FIPPA.

In 1996 the Board of Governors approved The University of Western Ontario Guidelines on Access to Information and Protection of Privacy. The principles upon which the Guidelines are based include the following: as a general rule, with the exception of personal information, information contained in University records should be available to members of the University community and to members of the public more generally; exemptions from the general principle favouring access should be as limited and specific as possible; and collection, retention, use, and disclosure of personal information contained in University records should be regulated in a manner that will protect the privacy of individuals who are the subject of such information.

Currently, Western endeavours to provide both the University community and the public with broad access to its records. It continues its efforts to protect the personal information of all individuals who come into contact with the University, be they students, alumni, faculty, staff, or members of the general public. The goal has been to ensure that all information is dealt with appropriately, whether in accordance with University policies or legislation. The latter includes, for example, requirements laid out in the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act and in the federal Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA), to the extent that the latter Act is applicable to the University.

Western has established an Information and Privacy Office located in the University Secretariat and appointed an Information and Privacy Coordinator. This Office is responsible for the day-to-day administration of FIPPA and other related legislation. An Advisory Committee has been formed to assist the Coordinator with the task of implementation.

Members of the Committee include: Director of the Information and Privacy Office; University Secretary; University Archivist; University Legal Counsel; Director of Internal Audit;

And when the game goes down in history
It’s just another Western victory
